

Paediatric Disability Distance Learning Courses

Sheffield Children's NHS Foundation Trust and the British Academy of Childhood Disability (BACD) have established a new partnership to deliver web-based distance learning courses to professionals supporting disabled children and young people and their families.

Paediatric Neurodisability Diploma

This masters level web-based distance learning course provides thorough teaching across all areas of Paediatric Neurodisability.

The course is recommended for all Paediatric Neurodisability grid trainees in the UK, to complement the grid training programme and provides a useful framework to gain the expected competencies.

It would also be excellent training for any medical specialist in Paediatric Neurodisability in the UK or overseas.

There are four short residentials of 2 or 2½ days to attend in Sheffield during the two years of the course.

The online study can be undertaken flexibly. Trainees may use the Course as personal CPD or attain a SCH/BACD qualification upon successful completion.
